

EVENT INFORMATION

Facebook event page Join the facebook event page for interaction with the other co-creators, discussions and last minute infos. Search in facebook events for: "Burning Burg 2018".

Food Food is not included in the admission. You need to bring enough food for yourselves. There are four fridges in the kitchens to keep your stuff cool.

Beverages Beverages are not included in the admission. There will be a pile of beer, water, cola and lemonade waiting for us. Count what you take and pay at the end. Specifics on whom to pay will be found on a sign at the stack. Besides from that, bring what you want.

Rain There are plenty kitchens and living rooms indoor to have a great time. And then there is the big castle room called palas.

Limitations Bigger art, domes, community tents etc. need placing by us. No soundsystems: Because playing music on an event costs money in Germany. We can't keep you guys from bringing a radio for your personal enjoyment though.

Noise As the castle grounds are surrounded by the town, we need to be quiet outside at night and reasonably quiet at day. Same goes for everywhere in the house. You can be loud IN the palas day and night, but please keep the door closed.

No art grants and no money for your projects In order to keep the monetary entry level as low as possible, we only collect the rent plus event insurance from you. As we do not collect an excess to that, we can not have art grants or the like.

How we organise co-creation We organise via an online spreadsheet. Every attendant gets access to that sheet and fills in his part. In that sheet you find shifts that need to be covered, workshop and activity timeslots, space for workshop and activity explanation. Email me if you have questions about artplating. Otherwise (if it is legal and not harmful and does not need resources that we would need to pay for): put it in the sheet and do it. Please do not email us your ideas. Skip the email and fill the spreadsheet yourselves. We might ask you for changes though.

ARRIVAL

Arrival by car Data for the GPS: Lutter am Barenberge - Auf der Burg 6

Arrival by train and bus The nearest train stations are Salzgitter Ringelsheim and Seesen. Use a public bus from there to Lutter am Barenberge. Get off at the Market Square and walk the last 200 meters up to the castle.

Rideshares Please post at the FB event page if you need or have a rideshare.

Parking NO parking on the castle grounds. The spaces in front of the entrance of the guest house are reserved for loading and unloading. After unloading, please park on the blue-marked areas outside the castle grounds. Please do not block or narrow the road when unloading – our hosts might need it for agricultural vehicles, for them it is a normal working day.

Remember to close the metal gate immediately after passing it, because of the free range animals of the castle farm. The path from the guest house to the rear gate must stay free of parking cars (emergency services access/ farm traffic).

CASTLE

The castle is run by a commune since the 80s. We will be the only guests.

Pets Dogs and other pets are not allowed. The castle is a farm with free range animals.

The white Horse is very cute and likes to observe and copy human behaviour. It is however very old and not in full control of its extremities and gravity. Do not stand at the side of this horse! Danger!

Castle Exploration Don't! You would disturb people at best, and at worst get yourself in some real danger.

GUESTHOUSE

The guesthouse (our accommodation) has four areas, each with a toilet and a fully equipped kitchen (with enough pots, crockery and cutlery). Only use the kitchens downstairs please. If you volunteer to organise cleaning of the upper kitchens, we will open them. There is a bathroom for each area. In addition, there are two showers with solar water heaters in the basement and two on the upper level. The rooms are equipped with two to six beds. There are two small and one very big living room. Leave no trace in the kitchens!

Windows If you open a window, "hook" it fixed please.

Wood in the house If you consume ovenwood, chop wood (see map „wood chopping“) and fill it up again - whether in the kitchen, living room or meeting room. The wood is high quality wood for the stove and must not be used for the campfire.

What do I need to bring?

If you rented a bed: Bedding or a sleeping bag plus pillow

Everyone: Towels, slippers or thick socks . Please do not enter the living area (including corridors, kitchens and living rooms) with street shoes.

Costumes. Gifts!

CAMPING

Camping area No cars, no fire. Spaces in front of the entrance of the guest house for loading and unloading. Caravans may be parked on the camping area. Campers may only park on the camping area with a collecting container or a large tarp under the engine and other leaky parts of the vehicle. There is a toilet house in front of the entrance for the campers, and there are toilets and showers inside the house (see guesthouse).

PALAS

The Palas (Castle Room) This big room has a stage and a big projection screen. No smoking in the palace. Please be calm in front of the palace at night - let the castle residents sleep. Keep doors and windows of the palace closed at night. ONLY use the ground floor!

CAMPFIRE

Camp Fire There is ONE official, large and cosy fireplace. We will create and burn our Effigy here. No other fires allowed. Enough wood is to be found at the fireplace this year. Bring machetes.

GROCERY SHOPPING

Shopping In the castle shop, there is some self-produced food available directly from the castle commune (eggs, juice from their own cider, possibly even sausage - just ask) . In walking distance from the castle there is a supermarket which is open Friday and Saturday 7:00 to 20:00. In addition, there are many small shops (bakery, butcher... ) with different opening times .

TRASH

Trashcans (black) are at the side of the house. Packing Material has to go into separate yellow bags. These are provided in the kitchens. Please put these besides the trashcans outside. Please collect bottles (Wine/ High Spirits) there too.

CO-CREATION

Radical Self Reliance is the rule here too. Bring what you need to set up and clean up yourselves. Burning Burg is what YOU make of it.

CLEAN UP

Leave no trace Before you leave, please ensure that you swept everything, wiped, rinsed, cleaned up, chopped and replaced ovenwood. Living rooms, corridors, kitchens, bathrooms, castle room, paths, camping -, campfire- and parking area must be clean and ready for the next group when we leave. Empty returnable bottles you brought have to be taken away again, and glass bottles should be disposed of in the waste glass containers in the village. If more residual waste originates as the bins can accommodate, we can pay for extra garbage bags from the castle people. Only these garbage bags are collected.

VERY RESPONSIBLE SOBER PERSON

We have one dedicated sober person (visibly carrying a yellow sign) per evening to help you deal with external forces like Police and Emergency Services, if something happens. This person also is the contact for people in distress (dealing with unwanted sexual advances,..)

SOME NO-NOS

- Do not leave anything you used uncleaned in the kitchen. Fucksake.
- Do not change anything at power cables and lamps outside in case of rain. It takes a long time to put this up and it is rain safe (mexican style).
- No laser lights allowed.
- We value our privacy at this event, Press or Media are not welcome.
- No filming for documentaries allowed.
- Do not post photos from the event anywhere (else than the secret f-group).

“DON'T BE A DICK”

Please be respectful with the gifts you get. We had some rather disgusting behaviour last year with people demanding food and shoving the cooks away. Food offerings are gifts. Wait for it to get ready and be thankful IF you get something. We will have a keen eye on this.

LIABILITY

Participate at your own risk. You are fully liable for all of your actions.
